PROJECTS

House Price Predictor - GitHub

- Developed a Supervised Machine Learning model using Python and Scikit-Learn to predict property valuations based on regional features.
- Processed a Kaggle dataset of 5,000+ records using Pandas and NumPy for data cleaning, feature selection, and normalization.
- Created an interactive web dashboard using Streamlit, enabling users to receive real-time price estimates via dynamic input parameters.

Expense Tracker - Github

- Developed a Python-based Financial Tracker utilizing JSON for persistent data storage and cross-session record management.
- Engineered CRUD operations for expense logging, history retrieval, and automated aggregate calculations using efficient data serialization.
- Implemented robust error handling and input validation with try-except blocks to ensure system stability and crash prevention.
- Optimized file I/O operations and data integrity using the os and json libraries for reliable local storage management.
